INTRODUCTION

The aims and functions of the Centre of Asian Studies are to provide a focal point for The University of Hong Kong in the fields of Contemporary and Traditional Chinese Studies, Hong Kong Studies and East, South and South-east Asian Studies. The Centre is therefore designed to provide research support to the University's and other Hong Kong Scholars, as well as overseas scholars in these fields; supervision for postgraduate students undertaking their studies through research; administrative facilities for research, seminars and conferences relating to these aspects of Asian Studies; a forum for members of the University's teaching staff and postgraduate students to partake in multi-disciplinary and other seminars; publishing facilities for the Journal of Oriental Studies and the results of research in Asian Studies; and the promotion of East and South-east Asian Studies.

The Centre of Asian Studies is an integral part of the University of Hong Kong. Management of the Centre is the responsibility of a Committee of the University Senate. Basic support is provided from the University's budget, through funding of staff positions, maintenance of the Centre's library, other collections and equipment, and the provision of offices and other services. Additional funds for specific projects and activities are received from various foundations and private sources while "contract operations", directly financed, are also undertaken.

Acknowledgements for major grants for Centre Activities beyond the scope provided by the University budget for the two academic years 1990-92 are made to:

Dr. Pauline Chan, O.B.E., LL.D.(Hon.), J.P., W. Haking Enterprises Ltd.
The Hang Seng Bank
The Institute of Developing Economies
The Hong Kong Pei Hua Education Foundation
The Beijing-Hong Kong Academic Exchange Centre
The Tin Ka Ping Foundation
The United Board of Christian Higher Education
The Hong Kong Culture and Art Foundation
Bank of East Asia
Hong Kong Translation Society

Mr. Stanley Ho
Ms. Lucina Ho
K.C. Wong, Education Foundation Ltd.
Pacific Cultural Foundation
King Chung Chi Foundation
The Lee Foundation
The Lee Hysan Foundation
Mr. Li Ka-shing
The Hong Kong Council for the Promotion of Chinese Culture
The Universities Coordinating Council, Alberta, Canada
The C.C. Wu Cultural & Education Foundation Fund Ltd.

Numerous other smaller grants were made by individuals and organizations, in support of research undertaken and conferences held by the Centre.

The Centre's current research projects are undertaken by its Research Staff, Centre Fellows, Research Fellows, Research Associates, Research Postgraduate Students and Visiting Scholars. The Centre also does some research on a contract basis. Several multinational corporations operating in Hong Kong and Hong Kong industrial concerns have assisted with finance and co-operated on business-oriented projects. Fees from contract research and seminars have provided further financial assistance for research activities.

The Centre is, therefore, a facility for the use of (i) members of the University concerned with Asian Studies, (ii) members of the Hong Kong community undertaking university-level research in relevant topics, and (iii) scholars who are visiting the Centre of Asian Studies. Formal affiliation of those using the Centre is granted by the Committee of Management under different designations approved by the University Senate.

In the past, the Centre has also acted as a research base for activities of research groups from overseas. In such cases, the visiting group states its requirements and a formal agreement is drawn up by which the University receives the funds from the sponsoring organization and administers them, employing the necessary support staff (research assistants, translators, clerks) who become members of the Centre staff for the duration of the project. Members of the visiting team are associated with the Centre in the usual ways.

The Centre is a founding member of the East Asian Economic Association (EAEA), and acted as the Secretariat for this Association until 1990. In addition, the Centre is a member of the Hong Kong Branch of the Royal Asiatic Society and the Asia Foundation's Asian-Pacific Institutes Network (APIN). The Centre is a regular contributor to the latter's newsletter. The Centre also maintains contact with many overseas academic institutions, such as the Institute of Developing Economics (IDE), SOAS at London University, the University and the Polytechnic at Bremen, Germany, the University of California at Davis, and numerous tertiary institutions in China. Regional research activities are being conducted in cooperation with some of these organizations and possibilities for future projects are being considered.

COMMITTEE OF MANAGEMENT

The Centre of Asian Studies Committee of Management determines and keeps under review the programmes and activities of the Centre. As a committee of the University's Senate, it advises and reports annually to the Senate on all matters regarding the Centre.

Members of the Committee for the two years, 1990-91 and 1991-92 were Dr. J.P. Burns (Political Science), Prof. W.I.R. Davies (Periodontology and Public Health), Dr. G. Evans (Sociology), Dr. N. Owen (History), Dr. C.Y. Sin (Chinese), Dr. E.Y.Y. Sinn (History), Dr. R. Skeldon (Geography and Geology) and Professor A.T. Tatlow (Comparative Literature). Professor Davies was Chairman until June 1991, when he was succeeded by Professor Tatlow. Ms. Judy Chung has been the Secretary for the whole period under review. The Vice-Chancellor of The University of Hong Kong and the Director of the Centre of Asian Studies are ex-officio members of the Committee.

STAFF AND STUDENTS

The permanent staff comprises a full-time Director, an Assistant to the Director, three Research Officers, an Assistant Research Officer, and eleven secretarial/clerical staff. In addition to conducting independent research within the Centre's prescribed fields of interest, the Centre's permanent staff work in support of and in cooperation with Centre Fellows.

Commencing in 1991-92, the Centre assumed a teaching role, and directly admitted five research post-graduate students to undertake studies on Asian studies topics. Four of the five students were awarded studentships, which grants financial support and allows the candidates to undertake a certain amount of teaching or work in lieu thereof. Supervision of the students is provided by the Centre, supervisors being either one of the Centre's academic staff or a Centre Fellow. Degrees will be awarded by a Faculty, either Arts or Social Sciences, depending on the area and discipline of study.

For the academic year 1991-92, one research post-graduate student registered in Sociology, while the remaining four registered in Economics. Another three research post-graduate students transferred their cadidacies from other departments to the Centre of Asian Studies.

CENTRE FELLOWS, HONORARY RESEARCH FELLOWS AND RESEARCH ASSOCIATES

Centre Fellows are staff members of the University who have declared their intention to undertake research as "Centre Fellows", and who have been so approved by the Centre's Committee of Management. Some Centre Fellows' projects may be supported by Centre funds; for large projects the Director will advise researchers on how to obtain outside funding.

Research grants of Centre Fellows are administered by the Centre, and Centre Fellows are provided research facilities, and limited office and secretarial services. There were 46 Centre Fellows in the period 1990-92.

Qualified members of the Hong Kong community undertaking scholarly research in the area of Asian Studies may be affiliated to the Centre as Honorary Research Fellows or Research Associates. Where funds are provided, the Centre administers their projects to the same extent as for staff members of the University.

The Centre of Asian Studies welcomes academic visitors who wish, during their professional visits to Hong Kong, to have an operating base and affiliation to a local academic institution. For temporary visits not involving a significant use of Centre resources, formalities are minimal and the scholar is merely designated Visiting Scholar. Those wishing more formal association with the University should apply in advance, stating the details of their project and requirements — both for research and for formal association — for the consideration of the Committee of Management and the Senate. Such visitors are designated Research Associates or Honorary Research Fellows.

SEMINAR PROGRAMMES

The Centre has four major seminar programmes. They are essential to the primary function of the Centre as an inter-disciplinary unit bringing together the staff and post-graduate students of the University. They aim to provide the necessary means to encourage group research; to attract an increasing number of scholars to Centre activities; to form a valuable link with the teaching function by enriching the courses offered; and to provide a continuing focus of interest for Centre Fellows. The four programmes are each headed by a Chairman as follows:

Contemporary Chinese Studies (Dr. J.P. Burns, Department of Political Science).

Traditional Chinese Studies (Dr. C.Y. Sin, Department of Chinese).

South-east Asian Studies (Dr. R.D. Hill, Department of Geography & Geology until August 1991; Dr. N.G. Owen from September 1991).

Hong Kong Studies (Dr. E.Y.Y. Sinn, Department of History from January 1991).

The activities of the seminar programmes are conducted through seminars, workshops and lectures by participants and visitors. They are also meant to augment the post-graduate teaching programmes in the University. Seminars of general interest in Asian Studies are also held. In addition, the Centre provides an informal forum for CAS scholars and Centre Fellows to present research in progress, receive feedback on their work, and learn about the work their colleagues are engaged in, through Brown-Bag Lunch-time Colloquia.

OTHER ACTIVITIES

Exchanges on an academic level continued with various institutions in China. Many professors and scholars from the Mainland visited the Centre, to conduct research, to attend conferences and to present seminars and lectures.

The Centre houses a collection of materials of importance in the cultural history of Guangdong. This archival collection consists mainly of folk literature and other popular materials, including "Wooden fish books", "nam yam", ballad, song and puppet theatre, Chinese Medicine, mediumship and Fung-shui books.

In collaboration with the Genealogical Society of Utah, the Centre has also acquired several clan genealogies of Hong Kong and Macau. This collection which is housed in the Fung Ping Shan Library, is a valuable supplement to the Guangdong archives.

The Centre also has collections of slides on the Lingnan School of Painting, Guangdong paintings and Chinese temples in Hong Kong, films of anthropological interest in Hong Kong, and tapes of Nan-yin Cantonese Narrative Songs. These are available on loan for educational purposes. It is hoped that the Centre will be able to expand these audio-visual collections in the forthcoming years.

A small library consisting mainly of materials on Contemporary China is operated by the Centre. This library is open for consultation by University staff and students, and accredited visitors. The collection housed in this library supplements other such collections in Hong Kong, such as that at the Universities Service Centre and the University of Hong Kong Main Library.

The Centre has identified some important areas for research on which work is on-going. "The History of New Music in China from 1885 to 1985" is one such project. Under the direction of Centre Fellow, Dr. C.C. Liu, much original and pioneering work has been done. In a series of ongoing seminars held since 1985, musicologists from Hong Kong, China, Taiwan and the United States have come together to present their work on the tradition and westernization of Chinese instrumental ensemble, the development and interpretation of Chinese art and folk songs, the renaissance of Chinese music, and the musical philosophy of the time. Four volumes have been published on this subject, by the Centre of Asian Studies, covering the periods 1885-1919, 1920-1945, 1946-1976 and 1885-1985. Some comparative work with other Asian music has also been done. The project is also broadening into studies on ethnomusicology.

In order to enable the research activities in Chinese Music to be more efficiently coordinated, a Chinese Music Research Workshop within the Centre was set up on July 1, 1991 with Dr. C.C. Liu as Chief Coordinator and Chief Investigator. Three Honorary Research Fellows have been appointed to be co-investigators: Ms. Barbara Fei for "The Development of Vocal Music in China", Mr. Wu Ganbo for "The Development of Chinese Traditional Music in the Twentieth Century", and Mr. James Wong for "The Development of Popular Cantonese Music in Hong Kong".

Another project of immense importance for Hong Kong, undertaken by the Centre, is the one on Children's Studies. The research done under this study aims to evaluate the current state of health and environment of Hong Kong's children. This will be done through the production of a bibliography surveying both literature and services relating to Hong Kong children, which will be a guide to both scholars and practitioners in the field, as well as through the assessment of certain problems and their inter-relationship, such as the long-term institutionalization of infants, consequences of the educational system, roots of juvenile delinquency, child abuse, etc. It is hoped that this project will be a pilot to the establishment of a resource centre to further research and act as an informed and responsive voice for the future needs of Hong Kong's children.

The Centre also promotes studies on economic development in Asian countries from both the sociological and economic perspective.

In addition, the Centre runs a programme with the Universities Coordinating Council of Alberta, Canada, whereby members of Alberta's University faculty working in Asian studies are awarded funds to spend their sabbatical leaves doing research in Hong Kong, based at the Centre of Asian Studies.

RESEARCH

This section lists and describes research undertaken by Centre of Asian Studies scholars in the period under review.

Ewan ANDERSON (Visiting Scholar)
Geopolitics of the Pacific Rim

Defence, security and international boundary issues relating to the Pacific Rim countries are examined in this research.

Man Wan BENTLEY (Research Associate)
A Comparison of the Moral Teaching of Confucius and Socrates

The object of this research project is to discover what similarities and differences there may be in the moral teaching of Confucius and Socrates, especially since both philosophies have exerted an enormous influence in their respective countries and on the development of their subject.

Jean BERLIE (Research Associate)

1. Minorities of South China

This study looks at the social practices of the Dai, Zhuang, Dong and Muslim minorities of China.

2. The Special Economic Zones of Xiamen and Shantou

Mark BRAY (Centre Fellow)

1. Educational Planning in Small Countries

This project investigated the distinctive features of educational planning in countries with populations below 1.5 million. It drew on field research and existing published work to analyze the distinctive ecology of educational developments in small countries.

2. The Organisation and Management of Ministries of Education in Small States

The conventional literature on public administration is dominated by the patterns and concerns of large countries. This project analyzed the very different organizational and managerial frameworks of small countries. It was funded by the Commonwealth Secretariat, and included 15 case studies. Those in the Asia-Pacific region were Brunei Darussalam, Maldives, Solomon Islands, Tonga and Kiribati.

3. The Economics and Financing of Education

This project analyzed various dimensions of the economics and financing of education, both locally and abroad. Particular focus was on bisessional schooling, student loans, and government expenditure on education.

H.O. BROWN (Centre Fellow)

1. The Evolution of Chinese Education Thought

Special focus is given to Tao Xingzhi and other educational reformers in the Republican period, with reference to the interaction between China and the West and the parallel paths of Progressivism.

John A. BROWNELL (Honorary Research Fellow)

A Targets and Target-Related Assessment Curriculum Framework for Hong Kong: A Report to the Hongkong Bank Language Development Fund

A report of the Research and Development framework to support the educational reform initiative of the Education Commission's Report no. 4.

Roger BUCKLEY (Honorary Research Fellow)

Hong Kong's External Policies Since 1945 with Particular Reference to Its Dealings with Japan

John P. BURNS (Centre Fellow)

Contemporary China's Civil Service System

The project seeks to produce a book that examines China's 1980s pre-reform civil service system, based largely on official documents.

T.W. CASEY (Centre Fellow)

A Dictionary of Management

A study commissioned by the publishers Collins to compile a dictionary of terms in use in the field of International Management.

Ghislaine CHABANOL (Research Officer)

1. The Overall Significance in International Law of the Post-1997 Status of Hong Kong

The impact on international law of the future status of Hong Kong as a specimen of autonomous territory, internationalized for 50 years and as a case of territorial non-state entity endowed with an international personality and granted a certain number of external powers, in the context of the PRC's "one country, two systems" policy by reference to the situation of divided or composite states in international law.

2. The Treaty Making Power of the Future Hong Kong Special Administrative Region (textual approach)

The SAR legal capacity to conclude international agreements as a formally acceptable subject of international law for the purpose of Article 5 of the 1969 Vienna Convention on the law of treaties; legal discussion on the relevant provisions of the Basic Law and their implications in the law of treaties.

Mimi CHAN (Centre Fellow)

1. Hong Kong Literature

A 20,000 word contribution on Hong Kong to Literary Companion to South-east Asia. Manuscripts were completed and sent to the publisher in the period under review.

2. Hong Kong Stinting in English

A 6,000 word contribution to the Routledge Encyclopedia of Commonwealth Literature, general editor, Eugene Bensed.

3. The King: a Semi-Historical Account of My Father-in-Law, Ch'ew Liew-po's Life and Times

Written up in quasi-fictional form, the first three chapters were completed in the period under review.

CHAN Sui-jeung (Research Associate)

East River Guerillas in Hong Kong During World War II

This study traces the development of behind-the-lines Chinese Nationalist Resistance to the Japanese armies in Guangdong, and the transformation of these fighters into the East River Guerilla Column.

CHANG Chuen (Honorary Research Fellow)

Historical Study on Writing Material in the T'ang Dynasty

Kathleen CHEEK-MILBY (Research Associate)

Longitudinal Study of Hong Kong's Legislative Council

By updating the interviews with Legco members, officials, elected and appointed members, it is aimed to trace the evolution and evaluate the role of Hong Kong's Legislative Council.

Albert H.Y. CHEN (Centre Fellow)

1. The Legal System of the People's Republic of China

This project aims to produce a book introducing the structural and institutional elements and basic areas of the law of the contemporary legal system in mainland China from a comparative and historical perspective.

2. Developments in Legal and Political Theory in the People's Republic of China in the Post-Mao Era

This study resulted in a series of articles on developments in legal and political theory in mainland China in recent years, taking into account political, economic and social changes.

E.K.Y. CHEN (Director)

1. Economic Restructuring and Industrial Division of Labour in Asia-Pacific

A study of rapid structural change and emergence of intra-region trade and investment in the Asian-Pacific economies resulting in sophisticated sub-regional division of labour.

2. Foreign Direct Investment in Asia

A study of the changing pattern of foreign direct investment in the western Pacific rim economies, and the relationship between foreign direct investment and the emergence of sub-regional economic zones in Asia-Pacific.

Frank F.K. CHIN (Centre Fellow)

Books of the Han Period (206 B.C. - A.D. 220) — the Collection, Collation, Transcription, Preservation and Circulation of Books in the Han Period

This study investigates the collection, collation and preservation of books in the Han period (206 B.C. - A.D. 220); the bibliographical significance of the recent archaeological finds (which include bamboo slips and books copied on silk); the accessibility of books in the Han Imperial libraries; book circulation in Han times and the importance of Hsi-ping shi-ching.

Steve S.K. CHIN (Honorary Research Fellow)

The Dilution of Maoism and the Creativity of Deng Xiaoping

Right after Deng Xiaoping consolidated his political power, he advocated the "three nos policies," that is, no revealing of hidden mistakes, no political labelling and no punishment. By doing this he defused class struggle, thought reform and terminated the mass movement. In this way, he undermined Mao Zedong Thought and reactivated the fossilized ideology to switch to economic reconstruction as the state policy and emphasised the policy of reform and openness as a means to this end. This project studies Deng Xiaoping's policy of defusing Maoism and reform which led to the total breakdown of the CCP's ideological front, and lay the foundation for peaceful evolution.

Nelson CHOW (Centre Fellow)

The Support of the Elderly in Chinese Societies

The project looks at the pattern of support for the elderly living in Chinese societies in Asia. Both the assistance offered by informal systems such as the family and formal health and welfare services provided by the government are studied.

Barry COOPER (Honorary Research Fellow)

1. Immigration from Hong Kong to Canada: Some Novel Considerations

Most immigrants to Canada have been economically and politically poor; Hong Kong immigrants provide a contrast to this pattern and have, in consequence, led to new kinds of problems in assimilation and acceptance by Canadian society.

Grant EVANS (Centre Fellow)

Ethnohistory of Tribal Tai of Laos and Vietnam

A study of the evolution of upland social and cultural systems and their relationship to lowland states.

Rajeshwari GHOSE (Research Associate)

1. India-Japan Relations 1900-1990

This project traced the three phases of Indo-Japanese relationship. The first phase 1900-1930 was a cultural quest for finding that "mystical" quality of "Asian-ness" in an age of Western domination. The second, the phase of military-economic expansion and accommodation and the third post-war phase one of economic aid, trade and investment.

1. Prospects for China's Economy

The prospects for China's development of industry, agriculture and commerce in the 1990s and the economic co-operation between the Mainland, Hong Kong, Taiwan and Macau are studied in this project.

2. On the Conditions for a Smooth Transition to 1997 of the Hong Kong Economy

The internal conditions influencing a smooth transition to 1997 of the Hong Kong economy are mainly three, namely, the confidence of the Hong Kong people, the effective administration and control by the Hong Kong government, and the continuation of Hong Kong's economic growth. The external conditions are, chiefly, the reasonable and appropriate political and economic policies adopted by the Chinese government.

3. The Study of China's Model

When one surveys China's economy, one should consider the Mainland, Taiwan, Hong Kong and Macau in a unified way. With the reunification of the four, there will be the following three characteristics: 1) Within this sovereign state, four independent economic entities will exist and the trade between the four cannot be an internal one but an external one; 2) Four kinds of currencies will be used in this sovereign state for a long time; 3) The public-owned economy and the private one will co-exist in this country. All these are unique phenomena in the economic development of China, and will thus form "China's Model".

1. A Daoist Theory of Chinese Thought

A book-length theory of the philosophical assumptions — especially concerning language and mind — that best explain the philosophical theories and disputes of the major pre-Chin thinkers.

2. The Concept of Fa 法 (Standards/Laws) in Pre-Chin Thought

An argument that the standard translation practice which presupposes that the word 法 changed meanings when used by Legalists (法家) is unfounded. The most coherent interpretation results from the consistent hypothesis that 法 are standards — especially those governing the interpretation of language and presumptive codes.

3. Chinese Ideographs and Western Ideas

An argument that the traditional Chinese assumptions about the nature of their language are neither conceptually nor scientifically objectionable. That very natural theory of language, further, partially explains the absence of mentalism (the theory of subjective ideas) in Buddhist Chinese thought.

Lynn WHITE (Honorary Research Fellow)

1. China's Reforms as a Social Pattern

As part of continuing research, this project aims at a book on the definition and fate of China's "reforms." The data are mainly from Shanghai. The theoretical emphasis is on reform as an unintended consequence of previous policies. Political aspects of many changes in contemporary China are considered: in economic management, education, civil and criminal procedure, cadre and army recruitment, fiscal extraction, rural industry, religion, the regionalization of news networks, migration patterns, and the effects of earlier technological policies and earlier conflicts on power networks.

2. China Coast Identities

Lowell Dittmer and Samuel Kim are editing a book, soon to appear from Cornell University Press, containing White's chapter on the ways events shape "identity" — specifically, the 1978+ reforms' effects on Guangdong, the 1979 U.S. derecognition's effect on Taiwan, and the 1989 Tiananmen Massacre's effect on Hong Kong. The paper proposes an historical method of defining this slippery, recurring notion called identity.

3. Pudong as a New Shanghai

This research paper studies the context of joint ventures in Pudong, Shanghai, as a solution to the whole municipality's economic problems.

WINZER M.A. (Honorary Research Fellow)

CONFERENCES & SEMINARS

A number of conferences and seminars were held by the Centre of Asian Studies in the two years under review. Listed below are the conferences held in the academic years 1990-91 and 1991-92, followed by a list of seminars and activities in each of the seminar programmes.

I. International Conferences

September 10-13, 1990

History of New Music in China

Co-ordinator: Dr. Liu Ching-chih

Held jointly with the Hong Kong Ethnomusicology Society, this conference was attended by leading scholars of musicology from China, Taiwan, Hong Kong, U.S.A. and Europe. The delegates critically reviewed the development of new music in China from 1885 to 1985. The conference proceedings were published in 1992 by the Centre of Asian Studies.

September 13-15, 1990

Seminar on Jiang Wenye

(jointly with the Hong Kong Ethnomusicology Society)

Co-ordinator: Dr. Liu Ching-chih

As a tribute to the memory of Jiang Wenye, a prominent Chinese composer of the 20th century, leading researchers, composers, musicians and ethno-musicologists studying the history of modern Chinese music participated in this seminar on the life and works of Jiang Wenye. The papers presented at this conference were published in a Centre of Asian Studies monograph in 1992.

November 28-29, 1990

Children's Studies Symposium: Hong Kong's Children: Our Past, Their Future

Organized to present the research findings of research undertaken in the previous two years, this symposium addressed the issues of social services for children, their physical and mental well-being, education and legislation related to Hong Kong's children.

December 4-6, 1990

Territorial Claims in the South China Sea

Co-ordinator: Dr. R.D. Hill

The aim of this conference was to define the issues and provide impetus for further research on territorial claims in the South China Sea. Delegates from the U.K., U.S., Canada, Taiwan, Australia, Singapore, Malaysia, the Philippines, Thailand, Brunei, Indonesia and Hong Kong participated in this conference. Their discussions highlighted the lack of interest of some of the interested parties to negotiate a settlement and the volatility of the situation that could conceivably escalate into a larger conflict. The proceedings of this conference were published by the Centre of Asian Studies in 1991, under the title, Fishing in Troubled Waters: Proceedings of an Academic Conference on Territorial Claims in the South China Sea.

April 15-17, 1991

Civil Service Systems in Asia Pacific

Co-ordinator: Dr. John P. Burns

Delegates to this conference included civil servants and academics from China, Japan, the Philippines, Thailand, Singapore, Taiwan and Hong Kong.

The conference addressed the concepts of efficiency and productivity and their measurement; specific civil service management processes and their reform; pre-conditions necessary for increasing efficiency and productivity of civil service systems in the Asia Pacific.

June 29-July 2, 1991

Old Cultures in a New Asia

(Jointly with the Asian Studies Association of Australia [ASAA])

Co-ordinator: Dr. Helen Jarvis

In compliance with their rule to hold every other ASAA conference outside Australia, the 1991 ASAA conference was held in Hong Kong with the Centre of Asian Studies as the host institution. Thirty-three papers were presented by ASAA members in panels that studied the dimensions of the Asia-Australia relationship, cross-cultural relations, resistance and domination, social and economic changes, imperialism, as well as specific country studies.

July 23-26, 1991

The Third International Conference on the Evolution of the East Asian Environment since the Mid-tertiary

(Jointly sponsored with the Chinese Academy of Sciences and held in Kunming, Yunnan Province)

Co-ordinator: Dr. Nina G. Jablonski

Delegates to this conference included scientists from Hong Kong, Nepal, India, Japan, U.S.A., Australia, Belgium and various institutions in China. Thirty-three papers were presented in the fields of geology and geochronology, palaeoclimatology, biogeography of the Tibetan Plateau, palaeobotany, palaeozoology and palaeoanthropology. A volume consisting of selected papers is to be published shortly by the Centre of Asian Studies.

August 19-23, 1991

The History of the Sui, Tang & Five Dynasties

Co-ordinator: Dr. Joseph Wong

The conference was the first international conference of a similar scope and scale in the last 40 years. Leading scholars from Mainland China, Taiwan, Japan and other regions were present. It was also the first conference in this field where scholars from both mainland China and Taiwan attended. The newest developments in the field were discussed and thirty papers were presented. The proceedings will be published in 1993.

October 28-30, 1991

Asia-Pacific Conference on Translation and Interpreting: Bridging East and West

(Jointly with the Hong Kong Translation Society and the College of Languages, Linguistics and Literature, University of Hawaii at Manoa)

Co-ordinator: Dr. C.C. Liu

Jointly with the College of Language, Linguistics and Literature of the University of Hawaii at Manoa and the Hong Kong Translation Society, the Centre held an Asia-Pacific Conference on Translation and Interpreting. Forty-nine delegates from the United States, Canada, Hong Kong, New Zealand, China, United Kingdom and Taiwan attended the Conference and twenty-four papers were presented. A monograph consisting of the conference papers will be published in June 1993.

December 16 & 17, 1991

Culture and Society in Hong Kong

Co-ordinator: Dr. E.Y.Y. Sinn,

This was the first full-scale academic conference on the subject of Hong Kong culture. A total of twenty papers were presented in seven panels — "Culture, Society and History," "Culture and the Media," "Image and Language," "Literature in Hong Kong," "Culture of Lifestyle," "Cantonese Popular Songs," and "Opera and Film." The interaction between academics and "town people" — journalists, cartoonists, song writers and publishers was extremely stimulating. The conference was sponsored by the Bank of East Asia and the Hong Kong Institute for the Promotion of Chinese Culture.

February 21-22, 1992

The Development of Chinese Vocal Music

Convenor: Ms. Barbara Fei

In collaboration with the Hong Kong Ethnomusicology Society, the Centre organised a two-day seminar on the development of Vocal Music in China; twenty-four delegates from China, Taiwan, the United States and Hong Kong attended the seminar and fourteen presented papers. There was also a forum organised on the afternoon of the second day of the seminar. The seminar was one of the series of activities of the Centre's Chinese Music Workshop.

May 29-30, 1992

Christianity in China

Convenors: Dr. Beatrice Leung and Dr. John Young

This conference was convened in collaboration with the Catholic Holy Spirit Study Centre and the Christian Study Centre on Chinese Religion and Culture. Sixteen papers were presented, that looked at the historical, political, cultural and social contexts of Christianity in China. It provided a forum to bring together diverse views and personalities from the Church and Academia together, to exchange the results of their scholarship. The proceedings of the conference are to be published in 1993.

June 23-26, 1992

Education, Social Development and Regional Change in China

Convenor: Dr. Gerry Postiglione

Thirty-three papers were presented at this conference by delegates from the PRC, Hong Kong, Taiwan, Japan, Canada and the U.S. Papers addressed the issues of regional development and characteristics that create educational disparities in China, higher education, scientific education, mass education, women and youth in education, and education policy, administration and curriculum in China. A volume of selected papers is being prepared for publication.

PUBLICATIONS

The Centre's own publications include a Monographs and Occasional Papers Series, A Research Guides and Bibliographies Series, the Journal of Oriental Studies and the East Asian Tertiary/Quaternary Newsletter. The first two are both irregular series, and often the results of research undertaken by scholars at the Centre. The latter two are both biannuals. In the period under review, the Centre published twelve monographs, three issues of the Journal of Oriental Studies, three East Asian Tertiary/Quaternary Newsletters and reprinted two previous monographs that were out of print but still in demand. For a complete list of the Centre's publications, please turn to page 104 of this report.

Listed below are academic publications (books, articles and reviews) by the Centre's Director, Research Officers, Centre Fellows, Honorary Research Fellows and Research Associates. These publications all appeared in the period from July 1, 1990 until June 30, 1992.

THE EAST ASIAN TERTIARY/QUATERNARY NEWSLETTER, compiled and published by the Centre of Asian Studies, The University of Hong Kong.

Subscription Fee: HK$120.00 or US$15.00 per annum (surface mail rate)
HK$180.00 or US$23.00 per annum (airmail rate)

PURPOSE

As requested at the first Palaeoenvironment Conference at this Centre in January, 1983 and reiterated at the second Conference in January, 1987, this Newsletter is designed to contain short original contributions, news items regarding research projects in progress or planned, reviews of books, abstracts of current literature, travel by scientists, requests for information, etc.

Geographical scope: within the area bounded by 75° to 150°E. longitude to 20° to 50°N. latitude, but extending to adjacent regions when data are relevant to the core area. Geological time scale: from early to mid-Tertiary up to the emergence of man, but reaching back to earlier periods when considered relevant. In order that this project retain its impetus, all scientists within and outside east Asia are asked to provide (without regular reminders from the Centre) a statement of current activities, travel, publications and any other information likely to be of interest of their colleagues.

Materials may be sent to the regional editors, or direct to the editor, Dr. Nina G. Jablonski, Department of Anatomy and Human Biology, University of Western Australia, 6009 Australia, for inclusion in forthcoming issues.

Back issues are available.

Please send prepayment with your order.
Standing orders are accepted.

Please begin my subscription to the Newsletter from No. 2 onwards. ☐
