INTRODUCTION TO THE CENTRE OF ASIAN STUDIES

The aims and functions of the Centre of Asian Studies are to provide a focal point for the University of Hong Kong in the fields of Contemporary and Traditional Chinese Studies, Hong Kong Studies and East and South-east Asian Studies. The Centre is therefore designed to provide research assistance to Hong Kong and overseas scholars in these fields; administrative facilities for research, seminars and conferences relating to these aspects of Asian Studies; a forum for postgraduate students to partake in multi-disciplinary and other seminars; publishing facilities for the Journal of Oriental Studies and the results of research in Asian Studies; and the promotion of East and South-east Asian Studies.

The Centre of Asian Studies is an integral part of the University of Hong Kong. Management of the Centre is the responsibility of a Committee of the University Senate. Basic support is provided from the University's budget, through funding of staff positions, maintenance of the Centre's Library, other collections and equipment, and the provision of offices and other services. Additional funds for specific projects and activities are received from various foundations and private sources while 'contract operations', directly financed, are also undertaken.

Acknowledgements for major grants for Centre activities beyond the scope provided by the University budget for the academic year 1982-84 are made to:

The Hang Seng Bank
The Harvard-Yenching Institute
The Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation
The Japan Institute of Labour
The Lee Foundation
The Lee Hysan Foundation

Several multinational corporations operating in Hong Kong and Hong Kong industrial concerns have assisted with finance and co-operation on business-oriented projects, and fees for contract research and seminars have provided further financial assistance to research activities.

The Centre is, therefore, a facility for the use of (i) members of the University concerned with Asian Studies, (ii) members of the Hong Kong community undertaking university-level research in relevant topics, and (iii) scholars who are visiting the Centre of Asian Studies. Formal affiliation of those using the Centre is granted by the Committee of Management under various designations approved by the University Senate.

THE COMMITTEE OF MANAGEMENT

The Centre of Asian Studies Committee of Management determines and keeps under review the programmes and activities of the Centre. As a committee of the University's Senate, it advises and reports annually to the Senate on all matters regarding the Centre.

Members of the Committee for 1982-83 were Dr. R.L. Huang (Vice-Chancellor), Professor P.G. Willoughby (Law), Professor B. Lofts (Pro-Vice-Chancellor), Professor F.P. Lisowski (Anatomy), Dr. E.K.Y. Chen (Director of the Centre), Dr. L.Y. Chiu (Chinese), Dr. Y.C. Jao (Economics), Dr. C.K. Leung (Geography and Geology), Dr. C.M. Turnbull (History), and Dr. S.L. Wong (Sociology).

Members of the Committee for 1983-84 were Dr. R.L. Huang (Vice-Chancellor), Professor F.C.T. Moore (Philosophy), Professor B. Lofts (Pro-Vice-Chancellor), Professor R.W.Y. Kwok (Urban Studies and Urban Planning), Dr. E.K.Y. Chen (Director of the Centre), Dr. L.Y. Chiu (Chinese), Dr. Y.C. Jao (Economics), Dr. C.K. Leung (Geography and Geology), Dr. S.L. Wong (Sociology) and Dr. L.R. Wright (History).

STAFF

The permanent staff of the Centre comprises a full-time Director, one Senior Research Fellow, three Research Officers, one Assistant Research Officer, one Administrative Assistant and nine secretarial/clerical staff. In addition to conducting independent research within the Centre's prescribed fields of interest, the Centre's permanent staff work in support of and in cooperation with 'Centre Fellows'.

The research staff at the Centre and their project titles for 1982-84 are as follows:

Director: Edward K.Y. Chen, "Asia's Newly Industrialising Countries Revisited"

Senior Research Fellow: Frank H.H. King, "History of the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation"

Research Officers: Steve S.K. Chin, "Mao Zedong's Socialist Road"
Billie L.C. Lo, "Chinese Education: national policy and rural reality" (until July 1983)
Thomas M.H. Chan, "Economic reform in post-Mao China" (from September 1984)
Joseph Wong, "China's Foreign Relations in the 7th Century A.D."

Assistant Research Officer: Patrick M.C. Fung, "Economic Growth Experience of Hong Kong and Singapore" (until May 1983)
Teresa Y.C. Wong, "The Sources of Growth in Hong Kong Manufacturing, 1973-78" (from July 1983)

Temporary staff are employed in connection with research activities and are usually financed from the related research grant.

Temporary Research Staff and their projects during 1982-84 were:

Mary-Elizabeth Campbell (Female Expatriate Adjustment in Hong Kong)
Carolyn Duncan (Female Expatriate Adjustment in Hong Kong)
David J.S. King (Hongkong and Shanghai Bank History)
Catherine E. King (Hongkong and Shanghai Bank History)
Lei Tak Chiu (Hong Kong and Macau Genealogical Collection)
Ma Chor-Kin (Hong Kong and Macau Genealogical Collection)
Elizabeth Ng Wai-yee (Hongkong and Shanghai Bank History)
Gabriele Rassaerts (Female Expatriate Adjustment in Hong Kong)
Judith A. Sinnott (Female Expatriate Adjustment in Hong Kong)

Tsang Yat-man (Hong Kong and Macau Genealogical Collection)
Cecilia Tam Yeung (Personality Formation in Chinese Culture)
Yung Ching-ho (Economic development and leadership instability in China)

CENTRE FELLOWS

Centre Fellows are staff members of the University who have declared their intention to undertake their research as 'Centre Fellows', and who have been so approved by the Centre's Committee of Management. Some Centre Fellows' projects may be supported by Centre funds; for larger projects the Director will advise researchers on how to obtain outside funding.

Research grants of Centre Fellows are administered by the Centre, and Centre Fellows are provided research facilities, limited office space and secretarial services.

There were 39 Centre Fellows in the period 1982-84. Their names and projects are listed below.

AFFILIATED MEMBERS/HONORARY APPOINTMENTS

In addition to research undertaken by Centre Staff and Centre Fellows, the Centre sponsors research of qualified members of the Hong Kong community and, where funds are provided, administers their projects to the same extent as for staff members of the University.

The Honorary Research Fellows based in Hong Kong for 1982-84 and their fields of interest are listed below:

Leo Goodstadt, "Hong Kong and PRC Economy"
James Hayes, "Guangdong Archival Collection"
Marjorie Topley, "Hong Kong Anthropology"

Daniel Tretiak, "China's Trade and Foreign Policy"
Robert Orr Whyte, "Biogeography of China"

Other Hong Kong scholars designated Research Associates for 1982-84 are:

Rosanna Y.N. Chan, "The Impact of economic development strategies on the life situation of ordinary people in Hong Kong"
Chan Siu Jeung, "The east river guerilla column 1940-45"
Rajeshwari Ghose, "The Tyaagarajaswamy temple in Tiruvar - a historical and cultural study"
Patrick Hase, "Traditional Village Life in the New Territories"
Maria G. Lau, "Religion in China"
William Meacham, "Nature and role of religion in early Chinese"
Iris Minor, "Hong Kong Magistrates: 1840s-1970s"
Stewart F. Richards, "Industrialisation with reference to small exporting economies, e.g. Hong Kong; Employment Changes in Hong Kong"
Susan B. Rifkin, "Community Health in Southeast Asia"
C.M. Speak, "Curriculum Development at the secondary level in Hong Kong"
Melvin P. Thatcher, "Lineage and State in the Spring and Autumn Period"

VISITORS

The Centre of Asian Studies welcomes academic visitors who wish, during their professional visit to Hong Kong, to have an operating base or, perhaps, simply a convenient address. For temporary visits not involving a significant use of Centre resources, formalities are minimal and the scholar is merely designated "Visiting Scholar".

Those wishing more formal association with the University should apply in advance, stating the details of their project and requirements — both for research and for formal association — for the consideration of the Committee of Management and the Senate. Visitors can be designated "Research Associates" or "Honorary Research Fellows". In 1982-83, the CAS had a Visiting Professor, who was Acting Director for four months, from September to December, 1982.

Visitors and affiliated overseas scholars and their research projects during 1982-84 were:

Visiting Professor:

Daniel W.Y. Kwok (University of Hawaii, Manoa), "Modern Chinese Populism and the Intellectual History of Modern China"

Honorary Research Fellows:

T. Ashida (Waseda University), "Ming Dynasty long novels and modern novels reflecting the northern and southern"
M.M. McCoy (University of Cincinnati), "Psychological Adjustment of Expatriate Wives in Hong Kong"
W.A. Reynolds (University of East Asia), "Organisational Structure and Adaptation of Technology in Factories in China"
H.A. Rydings, "Index to Hong Kong Sessional Papers"
Hermann Schubnell (University of Giessen), "Demography of East and South-east Asia"
Peter Van Ness (University of Denver), "Taiwan's Export Processing Zones and the relevance of their experience to the PRC Special Economic Zones"

Research Associates:

Robert S. Bauer, "A Study of Synchronic Sound Change in Hong Kong Cantonese"
Clare Hollingworth, "Growth of the CCP and Sino-Soviet Relations until the death of Mao"
Edwin P.W. Leung (Seton Hall University), "The American-trained Chinese Elites — their contribution to China's modernization"
Fredrikke M. Scollard, "Thermo-luminescent dating of Shekwan Pottery"
Betty P.T. Wei, "History of Shanghai"
Hiromi Yamamoto (Japan Institute of Developing Economies), "China's Resource-Allocation System in the economic plan"

Visiting Scholars:

Visiting Scholars granted office facilities during the year 1982-84 are:

Gisele Bousquet (University of California, Berkeley), "A network analysis of the Vietnamese Refugee Community in Hong Kong's Refugee Camps"
Gopaldas Chaudhuri (Jawaharlal Nehru University), "China and non-alignment"
Frank Ching (Asian Wall Street Journal), "The Ching Clan: 900 years in the life of China"
Rebecca Chiu Lai-Har (Australian National University), "Socio-spatial Patterns in the Shenzhen Special Economic Zone"
K.K. Fung (Memphis State University), "Regional Comparative Advantage in Chinese Economic Development"
Ian Kelly (Tasmanian College of Advanced Education), "Geographical Factors and Implications of the Hong Kong China Relationship"
James K.S. Kung (University of Queensland), "The Struggle for a Community Hospital: the case of Eastern District, Hong Kong"

Elaine Kurtenbach (Watson Foundation Scholar), "Economic Development in the primary sector in China"
David R. Phillips (Exeter University), "Social Service Provision in the New Towns of Hong Kong"
K. Shimizu (International Christian University), "University education in Republican China"
Alan Smart (University of Toronto), "The social effects of squatter relocation in Hong Kong"
Josephine Smart (University of Toronto), "A study of the street hawking economy in Hong Kong"
Daniel W.C. So (University of Hawaii, Manoa), "Educational Language Policy in Hong Kong"
Emily Ure (Edinburgh University), "Housing in Hong Kong"

Visitors are expected to participate in relevant Centre activities and are asked to make their expertise available through informal discussions or otherwise with members of the University and senior students.

STUDENTSHIP

Under this programme the Centre receives applications from post-graduate students studying for higher degrees at the University of Hong Kong in fields pertaining to the Centre's prescribed areas of interest. The studentship is awarded to a meritorious candidate, who receives a monthly stipend, and who is enabled to undertake his studies in the Centre, and undertake a certain amount of teaching or work in lieu thereof. The studentship holder's degree work is undertaken as usual in a Department and approved by the Faculty, but supervision by a Centre Fellow and activities within the Centre are arranged. This award is normally made only to residents of Hong Kong.

For the academic year 1982-84, the studentship was awarded to an M.Phil. candidate from the Department of Sociology:

Mr. Robert Chung Ting-yiu, "Rural Development in the New Territories, Hong Kong"

RESEARCH

The Centre's current research projects as undertaken by its Research staff, Centre Fellows, Studentship holder and visitors have already been listed.

The Centre does some research on a contract basis. For instance the history of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank is being conducted under agreement with the said Bank, and the collection of Clan Genealogies in Hong Kong and Macau under agreement with the Genealogical Society of Utah. Research on business-related projects are sometimes sponsored by Hong Kong and multinational companies.

In the past, the Centre has also acted as a research base for activities of research groups from overseas. In such cases, the visiting group states its requirements and a formal agreement is drawn up by which the University receives the funds from the sponsoring organization and administers them, employing the necessary support staff (research assistants, translators, clerks) who become members of the Centre staff for the duration of the project. Members of the visiting team are associated with the Centre in the usual ways.

The Centre is also a founding member of the East Asian Economic Association (EAEA), and acts as the Secretariat for this Association. In addition, the Centre maintains contact with the International Development Research Centre (IDRC), Association of Development Research and Training Institutes of Asia and the Pacific (ADIPA), and the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD). Regional research activities have been conducted in cooperation with these organisations in the past, and possibilities for future projects are being considered.

SEMINAR PROGRAMMES

The four seminar programmes continued activity during 1982-84. The seminar programmes are essential to the primary function of the Centre as an inter-disciplinary unit bringing together the staff and post-graduate students of the University. They aim to provide the necessary means to encourage group research; to attract an increasing number of scholars to Centre activities; to form a valuable link with the teaching function by enriching the courses offered; and to provide a continuing focus of interest for Centre Fellows. The four programmes are each headed by a Chairman as follows:

Contemporary Chinese Studies (Chairman: Dr. C.K. Leung, Department of Geography and Geology)
 Traditional Chinese Studies (Chairman: Dr. L.Y. Chiu, Department of Chinese)
 Southeast Asian Studies (Chairman: Dr. L.R. Wright, Department of History)
 Hong Kong Studies (Chairman: Dr. Y.C. Jao, Department of Economics)

The activities of the seminar programmes are conducted through seminars, workshops, and lectures by participants and visitors. These activities are also meant to augment the Masters' programmes in the University. In 1982-84 several lectures were given by well-known authorities. Seminar series and workshops were also organized on specific topics in the academic year 1982-84. Activities of the various programmes of the year are summarised as follows:

CONFERENCES

The academic years 1982-84 also saw two international conferences, one symposium and one workshop:

- (i) "The Palaeoenvironment of East Asia from the Mid-Tertiary"
Chairman: Professor Robert Orr Whyte, Centre of Asian Studies, University of Hong Kong.
Conference Secretary: Mr. Joseph Wong, Centre of Asian Studies, University of Hong Kong.

This conference held in association with the International Union of Quaternary Research was the first of its kind, bringing together 60 experts from various parts of the globe: Five participants came from the U.S.A., one from Canada, three from France, two from West Germany, two from the U.K., one from Australia, two from Korea, four from Japan and fourteen from the People's Republic of China. The remaining participants were from one of the two Universities of Hong Kong, members of the Geological Society of Hong Kong and representatives from the Hong Kong Government.

Forty-seven presentations were made in five sessions entitled, (i) Geology, Tectonics, Orogeny and Geomorphology, (ii) Palaeoclimate and the Evolution of Modern Climate, (iii) Palaeobotany, Palynology and the Evolution of Vegetation, (iv) Palaeontology and the Evolution of Faunas, and (v) Physical and Biological Environments in which Man emerged.

The conference participants were pleased with the proceedings and the opportunity to continue discussions informally with their colleagues from overseas. It was decided at the end of the conference to publish the papers presented with some revisions. The idea of "An East Asian and Tertiary-Quaternary Newsletter" to be distributed world-wide has also materialized from this conference. The newsletter will be coordinated by Professor R.O. Whyte from here and Dr. Catherine Badgley of the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

(ii) "Development and Distribution in China"

Conference Secretary: Ms. Billie L.C. Lo, Centre of Asian Studies, HKU.

This conference, jointly organized by the Centre of Asian Studies and the Goethe Institut was also an international conference, with four participants from the United States, two from the United Kingdom, two from Canada, four from Germany, one from the People's Republic of China and twenty-two participants from the two universities of Hong Kong.

Altogether, sixteen presentations were made in four sessions: (1) Patterns and Determinants of Income Distribution, (2) Regional and Urban Development, (3) Rural Development and (4) Political and Legal Framework. Each presentation was followed by comments from a designated discussant, and then comments from the floor were invited. Much beneficial scholarly exchange ensued from this.

Selected papers presented at this conference are being prepared for publication.

(iii) "Population policies in Asian countries - contemporary targets, measures and effects"

Chairman: Professor H. Schubnell
Secretary: Dr. Susan B. Rifkin

The symposium was attended by over 60 participants, 23 of whom were from Hong Kong. The local participants were from the two universities, the Family Planning Association of Hong Kong and the Department of Census and Statistics, Government of Hong Kong. The remaining participants came from 17 overseas countries - Australia, Bangladesh, Canada, China, Germany, India, Indonesia, Japan, Korea, Malaysia, Nepal, Pakistan, Philippines, Singapore, Switzerland, Thailand and the United States of America. These participants represented government and non-government population and family planning institutes and health organizations, as well as academic institutions.

Eleven country assessments were presented pertinent to the main theme of the symposium. Another 18 papers were presented on the special topics of population development and growth, health and mortality and the integration of family planning in the health service system, migration, population projections and population growth, population growth and socio-economic development, stability of population and population control, knowledge, attitude and practice, population policy and family/household and society, and on the role of women in population and development in Asian countries.

The symposium was co-sponsored by the Draeger Foundation, West Germany, the Donner Canadian Foundation and Centre of Asian Studies, University of Hong Kong.

The papers presented at this symposium have been published jointly by the Centre of Asian Studies and the Draeger Foundation.

(iv) Workshop on the Special Economic Zones of China

Continuing from previous years, there was a great deal of interest in China's Special Economic Zones. A workshop on the Special Economic Zones in China was held in Zhuhai in June 1984. The Workshop was attended by representatives from the two universities in Hong Kong, New South Wales University in Australia, Jinan and Zhongshan Universities in Guangzhou, Shenzhen University, Guangdong provincial Academy of Social Sciences and Guangdong branch office of the People's Bank.

Various issues of development problems of Shenzhen in particular and the Chinese policy of Special Economic Zones in general, were discussed at the Workshop. More specifically, the following topics aroused great interest among the representatives: pricing reform in Shenzhen; the issue of Special Economic Zone currency that is intended to be convertible; the legal relationship between Shenzhen local government and central departments; banking reform in Shenzhen and future coordination between Special Economic Zones and the recently opened coastal cities.

BROWN BAG LUNCH-TIME COLLOQUIUMS

From January 1984, the CAS started a series of colloquiums every other week at lunch time, to provide an informal forum for CAS Scholars and Centre Fellows to present research in progress, receive feedback on their work, and learn about the work their colleagues are engaged in. Thirteen such sessions were held in the period from January to June 1984.

OTHER ACTIVITIES

Exchanges on an academic level continued with various institutions in China. In February 1983, CAS was visited by a delegation from the Institute of Vertebrate Paleontology and Paleoanthropology, Beijing. Several visiting Professors and scholars from the Mainland visited the Centre, and presented seminars and lectures here.

The Centre is collecting materials of importance in the cultural history of Guangdong. This archival collection consists mainly of folk literature and other popular materials. The Centre has so far acquired 'Wooden fish books', 'nam yam', ballad, song and puppet theatre, Chinese Medicine, mediumship and Fung-shui books. Several books in these categories were added to the collection during 1982-84.

In collaboration with the Genealogical Society of Utah, the Centre has also acquired several clan genealogies of Hong Kong and Macau. This collection which is housed in the Fung Ping Shan Library, is a valuable supplement to the Guangdong archives.

The Centre also has collections of slides on the Lingnan School of Painting and on Guangdong paintings, films of anthropological interest in Hong Kong, and tapes of Nan-yin Cantonese Narrative Songs. These are available on loan for educational purposes. It is hoped that the Centre will be able to expand these audio-visual collections in the forthcoming years.

A small library consisting mainly of materials on Contemporary China is operated by the Centre. This library is open for consultation by University staff and students, and accredited visitors. The collection housed in this library supplements other such collections in Hong Kong, such as that at the Universities Service Center and the University of Hong Kong Main Library.

A data-bank on various aspects of China is being prepared in the Centre. The data-bank aims to provide a guide to both primary and secondary sources on Chinese politics, ideology, education, economy, agriculture, industry and health care. It will be available to all accredited scholars.

PUBLICATIONS

A. Occasional papers and Monograph series (ISSN: 0378-2689)

This series is designed primarily to enable the results of Centre sponsored research and seminars to be more widely disseminated in as immediate a way as possible. It attempts to ensure that the scholarly community overseas is aware of the important work being done in the University of Hong Kong in the field of Asian Studies.

B. Bibliographies and Research Guides (ISSN: 0378-2689)

There is no 'national' system of bibliographical control of Hong Kong materials, and the Centre is attempting, in a modest way, to fill this gap. The series of research guides and bibliographies is designed to facilitate research, make known research materials available in Hong Kong, and generally to provide tools for scholars in the broader area of Asian Studies. The work of collection, collation, design, editing etc. is undertaken in the Centre of Asian Studies as a service to the scholarly community. In many cases Centre Fellows are involved, and the work may arise initially from their research interests.

The following books were published by the Centre of Asian Studies during 1982-84:

The Making of the Hong Kong Administrative Class, by Miron Mushkat, x + 83pp., 1982.

Research Guide to Education in China after Mao, 1977-81, compiled by Billie L.C. Lo, vi + 221 pp., 1983.

Index Indochinensis, an English and French Index to Revue Indochinoise, Extreme-Asie, Extreme-Asie - Revue Indochinoise and La Revue Indochinoise Juridique et Economique, compiled by R.D. Hill, vi + 155 pp., (1983).

The Experience of Expatriate Wives in Hong Kong, Questionnaire Surveys [A Research Report], by Mildred M. McCoy, x + 85 pp., (1983).

China in Readjustment: Selected Seminar Papers on Contemporary China, V, edited by Chi-keung Leung & Steve S.K. Chin, iv + 400 pp. (1983).

Chinese Temples on Hong Kong Island 香港島區之華人廟宇, by Tang Hoi-chiu, Ho Kam-chuen, Li Wai-ling and Ho Chui-mei (in Chinese, with plates and figures), vi + 196 pp., 1983.

Contemporary issues in Hong Kong Labour Relations, edited by Ng Sek Hong and David A. Levin, iv + 234 pp., 1983.

Sentence Particles in Cantonese, by Helen Kwok, v + 127 pp., 1984.

The Industrial Potential of Rural Asia, by Robert Orr Whyte, viii + 300 pp., 1982.

"Matey" Imperialists? The Tsarist Russians in Manchuria 1895-1917, by R.K.I. Quested, vi + 430 pp., 1982.

C. Journal of Oriental Studies (ISSN: 0022-331X)

Commencing with the volume for 1980 the Centre assumed the responsibility of publishing the Journal of Oriental Studies instead of the Hong Kong University Press which had done so for many years past. The scope of the Journal is described below:

"The area of coverage of the Journal includes China, Japan, Korea and Southeast Asia; the subject matter includes both traditional and contemporary issues in history, geography, fine arts, language, literature, philosophy, law, architecture, archaeology, economics, political science, sociology and anthropology."

The Journal is published biannually. Contributions from overseas and Hong Kong are welcomed. Commencing with the 1981 volume, one issue of the Journal is exclusively in Chinese and the other exclusively in English.

The Editors of the Journal for the 1982-84 period were:

Editors: Dr. L.Y. Chiu, Dr. C.K. Leung

Associate Editors: Dr. Y.C. Jao, Mr. D.A. Levin

Book Review Editors: Dr. P.L. Chan, Dr. R.K.I. Quested, Professor C.M. Turnbull

Volume 19 of the Journal appeared in the period being reported. Details are given below:

Journal of Oriental Studies, Vol. 19, no. 1 (1981), vi + 115 pp. (in Chinese), 1983.

Journal of Oriental Studies, Vol. 19, no. 2 (1981), viii + pp. 117-272 (in English); 1984.

A complete list of the Centre of Asian Studies publications is appended. Standing orders are accepted.
